An Introduction to Co-op Housing Management

April 11 and 12, 2019

Doubletree by Hilton Hotel
108 Chestnut Street, Toronto

Managing a housing co-op is different from managing other types of rental housing. You pay the bills, fill vacancies and keep the property in good repair. But as a co-op manager, you work for a democratically controlled organization. You need to understand the laws unique to co-op housing and the rules that are part of the co-op's funding arrangements with government. You help the board and members govern the co-op.

An Introduction to Co-operative Housing Management is a lively introduction to the unique features of co-op housing management. Materials have been updated to reflect current best practices, and any relevant changes to legislation. At the session you will get:

- two days of management training, delivered by some of the sector's most experienced educators
- a chance to ask questions, discuss issues and do case studies
- ideas and inspiration from your peers
- a reference binder filled with useful information
- a good grounding in the basics every co-op manager needs to do the best job possible.

This workshop has been designed for new managers or people preparing to work for a housing co-op in Ontario. It is also a good resource for co-op managers looking to refresh their skills.
